

Role: Application Programmer

Industry Type: IT Services and Consulting

Experience: 2+ years

Employment Type: Full time, Permanent

Location: South Africa

Role Summary:

iWMS South Africa, located in Johannesburg and KwaZulu-Natal, is looking for IT professionals with a passion for computer programming and who are excited to further their experience in developing software. Applicants must have at least 2+ years of experience using MS SQL Server/.Net Programmer and Reporting Tools and MS Office tools. New hires initially enter a paid, three-month training program for Körber Supply Chain (Formerly HighJump), a Warehouse Management System software. After completing the training and pairing with an iWMS mentor, new hires will work on exciting projects to help customers from around the globe maximize their existing supply chain operations, support distribution centre management, and optimize warehouse functionality.

Location:

As this is a remote role, we will consider applicants from all over South Africa as you will be comfortably set up to work from anywhere in the country. However, in-office working is available to applicants as needed.

Job Functions:

- Perform the necessary analysis and consultation to identify business issues and solution requirements.
- Configuration and implementation of the software system.
- Ability to design, develop, test, and document with the application framework.
- Participate in architectural design, give architects input, and manage any product concerns or issues.
- Ensure that the long-term architectural and performance strategies have design and code solutions.
- Effectively interpret and apply what the end-user requires.
- Brainstorm and develop innovative features in line with the business requirements of customers.

Job Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree or higher qualification in Computer Science, Computer Engineering or other related fields.
- 2+ years of experience using MS SQL Server/.Net Programmer and Reporting Tools and MS Office tools, depending on your level.
- Strong analytical, communication and problem-solving skills.
- Able to work productively and autonomously from a remote location.
- HighJump (Now Körber Supply Chain) certificate would be an added advantage.
- Bonus skills in SSRS Reports or other Report design tools and Bartender Label software.
- Fluent in English
